Important Notice

July 24, 2002

Dear Firearms Dealer

As you know, the Department of Justice (DOJ) has a business partnership with Worldcom for the administration of the DROS Entry System. In order to ensure the timely transition to Internet DROS processing, the delivery of DROS Internet processing equipment (e.g., HP Vectra PC, and Printer) has been moved up. Accordingly, we have begun immediate shipping of DROS Internet processing equipment to firearms dealers statewide.

Consequently, many of you will take delivery of your DROS Internet processing equipment prior to receiving scheduled training. We encourage you to temporarily store this equipment until you are able to attend one of the many scheduled DROS Internet Training Seminars that are currently ongoing throughout the state. For your convenience, we have enclosed another copy of the DROS Internet Training Schedule along with this notice.

Additionally, please note that contrary to past communications, all DROS Internet processing equipment is being shipped to you early, without the usual accompanying magnetic card swipe readers. However, Worldcom assures that the card swipe readers will be shipped to you prior to October 15, 2002 well in advance of the new DROS requirement to capture the purchaser's identification electronically which takes effect January 1, 2003.

For those dealers who currently have old PSD equipment (e.g., Newbold or Monorail PCs and printers): upon receipt of your new DROS Internet Processing equipment, please contact the DROS Service Center at 1-800 974-DROS to receive information on how to return the old PSD equipment. It is mandatory that this equipment be returned immediately. You may retain the magnetic card swipe device that accompanied your old PSD equipment for use with your new system. Just refer to either the video or the new DROS Internet User Manual that was shipped with your new equipment for instructions on how to connect the magnetic card swipe device to your new system.

Please rest assured that we are monitoring this situation very closely and will take whatever steps necessary to ensure that the card swipe readers are shipped to you as soon as possible.

We sincerely thank you for your patience, cooperation, and understanding throughout this time of change.

Sincerely
